Hilary Morgan — refreshingly different! Unwilling to settle for one style of music, Hilary's unique mix of jazz, pop, Celtic, folk, and rhythm and blues won the 1999 Song of the Year in the Alaska Public Radio contest with a Celtic accapella piece, "Come What May". Hilary's CDs, "Follow Your Dreams" and "Friend Like You", capture her spirit of hopefulness and enthusiasm. She is an accomplished guitar player with formal training in both voice and piano. She combines these with a distinctive songwriting and composition style that is remarkable.

This seasoned performer began her musical career singing on the streets of New York City. Determined to find out if people wanted to hear her original tunes, she perfected her performing and composing skills in the public eye before moving indoors. Hilary continued to captivate audiences around the world -- from New York to New Mexico; Switzerland to Australia.

It was while working in the Philippines in an Indochinese refugee camp, that Hilary found her second passion; working with indigent populations. Putting her musical career on hold, she moved east from refugees in the Philippines, to mentally ill in Hawaii and homeless street alcoholics in Alaska.

Unable to resist her musical muse and love of performing, Hilary has returned to stage and studio. Watch for her at local venues!
